

INTRODUCING HX™ SERIES

International® HX Series delivers unmatched strength and endurance for the most punishing of jobsites, while keeping its operator working longer. With four models in its line-up — HX615 short set-back axle, HX620 long set-back axle, HX515 short set-forward axle and HX520 long set-forward axle — International now has a truck to serve every vocational need.

MAXIMUM STRENGTH AND DURABILITY

HX Series is engineered to handle the most severe situations around. Its lightweight corrosion resistant aluminum cab is specifically designed for the vocational application. An industry leading lightweight 12.5" single rail option offers 3.5 million RBM with 13% less weight than a double 10" rail. The new Metton hood is stronger and lighter than fiberglass. Stainless steel door hinges are longer for superior strength and exceptional fit. Huck-bolted frame and cross members on the chassis minimize movement and wear. And, don't forget the 150,000 PSI center tow pin for extreme recovery towing.

DESIGNED FOR DRIVER PRODUCTIVITY

HX Series is purpose-built for its driver to get the job done. The series features the new DriverFirst™ Cab Air Suspension offering a comfortable and controlled ride. A 40 degree wheel cut with dual steering gears, advanced ABS System and low hood slope allow for optimal maneuverability and visibility. The interior offers ample space, useful features and functional controls. Air conditioning and power windows and locks are standard. Interior LED lights provide superior night visibility and require less maintenance than conventional lighting. Plus, the standard tilt/telescoping steering column accommodates any driver.

A STYLE THAT IS BOLD AND AGGRESSIVE

The HX Series radiates style to make a driver proud with design features purposeful to tackle the most severe jobs. The low angled hood and contoured fenders make it easier to navigate tight jobsites. Complex-style reflector headlamps with LED daytime running lights improve visibility. A bright stainless grille surround with aluminum mesh with available bright accent bars and stainless clad aluminum bumper, and bright cab skirts personify quality and durability. Plus, optional dual external air cleaners, stainless steel visors and bright LED lighted mirrors add to the bold style.

WITH UPTIME IN THE FOREFRONT

Uptime is the mantra at International, and you see it in the HX Series. OnCommand™ Connection comes standard, offering real time data for higher driver productivity and faster maintenance. Every component has been rigorously tested and proven in environments that simulate real operations. And, with every International truck, you get the unprecedented service available at nearly 700 International locations across the US and Canada.

STAY TUNED FOR MORE TO COME!

HX Series will formally launch on February 1, 2016 at World of Concrete in Las Vegas. Stay tuned for more details about this new series of trucks that will set a new standard for the severe vocational truck segment.
